RESUMEN DEL PROYECTO

Objective: The Center seeks to develop synergies between different disciplines and resources in European studies, as well as to create joint international activities and structural links with academic institutions in other countries. This also guarantees openness to a broad civil society that does not have easy access to European studies.

Expected results and dissemination: The aim is to be a European and transnational center for training, research and dissemination on Immigration, Borders and Human Rights issues, with an intense focus on a frontier area especially sensitive to these everyday problems.
