

Meet Our — Team

Ukraine and Palestine in the Crosshairs:
International Law Between War and Peace

Olena Nihreieva

olena.nihreieva@uca.es

Dr. Olena Nihreieva is an Associate Professor of International Law at Odesa I. I. Mechnikov National University (Ukraine) and a Lecturer at the University of Cádiz (Spain). She has taught courses in Public International Law, EU Law, International Internet Law (including cryptoassets regulation), and Maritime Law in both English and Ukrainian.

With experience as Vice-Dean for Research and as Executive Secretary of the Odesa National University Herald. Series: Jurisprudence, she has also been a Visiting Professor at universities in Spain and Italy. Her research focuses on International Humanitarian Law and International Internet Law, with additional interests in international lawmaking, enforcement, and economic law. Her PhD thesis addressed the legal regulation of ship mortgages, and she has published in both English and Ukrainian.

Michel Remi Njiki

michel.remi@uca.es

Dr. Michel Remi Njiki is a Senior Lecturer at the Faculty of Law of the University of Cádiz. He has been a Visiting Professor at institutions in Russia and Kazakhstan, as well as a Visiting Research Fellow at prestigious universities such as Oxford, the University of Arizona, and Radboud University.

He teaches a wide range of courses at both graduate and undergraduate levels in English and has led specialized academic seminars in Greece, Italy, and Germany. His research focuses on international peace and security, and he is a member of the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence on Immigration and Human Rights at the European External Borders. Since 2005, he has been part of the International and European Studies Group at the University of Cádiz. He has received notable awards, including the Extraordinary Doctorate Award (2016) and the XIII Andalusian Award in European Integration Studies (2019).

Lorena Calvo Mariscal

lorena.calvo@uca.es

Dr. Lorena Calvo Mariscal is a Lecturer at the Faculty of Law of the University of Cádiz, specializing in Public International Law and EU Law. She is a Research Member of the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence “Migration and Human Rights in Europe’s External Borders” and the SEA-EU Observatory for Migration and Human Rights.

She teaches in the Master's in International Relations and Migrations at the University of Cádiz, focusing on Borders and Migration, Asylum and Refugee Law, and Human Rights. Her recent research and publications examine the European Union’s externalization of border controls and migration and asylum management through cooperation with third states.

María Bellido

marian.bellido@uca.es

Ms. María Bellido is a researcher at the Faculty of Law of the University of Cádiz. She holds a Law degree and a Master's in International Relations and African Studies from the Autonomous University of Madrid.

She is a Research Member of the Centro de Estudios Internacionales y Europeos del Área del Estrecho, a research group within the Andalusian Research Plan, directed by Dr. Alejandro del Valle Gálvez. Currently, she is pursuing a PhD in Public International Law and International Relations at the University of Cádiz.

Enrique del Álamo Marchena

enrique.delalamo@uca.es

Mr. Enrique del Álamo Marchena is a researcher at the Faculty of Law of the University of Cádiz. He holds a Law degree from the University of Cádiz and two master's degrees: one in Law from the University of Granada and another in International Relations and Migrations from the University of Cádiz.

He is a Research Member of the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence "Migration and Human Rights in Europe's External Borders" (2017–2021) and the Centro de Estudios Internacionales y Europeos del Área del Estrecho, both directed by Dr. Alejandro del Valle Gálvez. Currently, he is a PhD candidate in Public International Law and International Relations at the University of Cádiz.

Cristina Castilla

cristina.castilla@uca.es

Ms. Cristina Castilla is a researcher at the Faculty of Law of the University of Cádiz and a PhD candidate in Public International Law and International Relations at the same institution. She holds a double bachelor's degree in Law and Business Administration from the University of Cádiz, a master's degree in International Relations and Migrations from the University of Cádiz, and a master's degree in International Law from the University of Malta.

She is a Research Member of the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence "Migration and Human Rights in Europe's External Borders" (2017–2021) and the Centro de Estudios Internacionales y Europeos del Área del Estrecho, both directed by Dr. Alejandro del Valle Gálvez. Her research focuses on migration studies and the Law of the Sea, particularly search and rescue operations at sea, as well as human rights, Spanish–Moroccan relations, and the Western Sahara conflict.